I talked with Charles Peterson, 278-3901, Perpetual Storage's architect, about their conditional use permit with Salt Lake County. It seems that this request is nearly the same as the one made two years ago. That project fell through due to limited funding, so they are proposing it again with the new twist of going ~50 deeper into the rock. Surface effects will be: increased materials on the angle of repose rock dump, creation of a new tunnel entrance, possible use and upgrade of the dirt access road, and possible increasing the pad area at the portal entrance. I asked Charles for the estimated volume of waste rock, but did not ask for new project drawings since we have drawings for the old project.

ANY CONCERNS? I'll write up a comment letter after I get the info from him. Our comments are requested prior to their February 14, 1995 meeting.
